TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF YOUR ACCOUNT AGREEMENT - This document, along with any other documents we give you pertaining to your account(s), is a contract that establishes rules, which control your account(s) with us. Please read this carefully. If you sign the signature card or open or continue to have your account with us, you agree to these rules. You will receive a separate schedule of rates, qualifying balances, and fees if they are not included in this document. If you have any questions, please call us.

This agreement is subject to applicable federal laws and the laws of the Government (except to the extent that this agreement can and does vary such rules or laws). The body of state and federal law that governs our relationship with you, however, is too large and complex to be reproduced here. The purpose of this document is to:

- summarize some laws that apply to common transactions;
- establish rules to cover transactions or events which the law does not regulate;

I can help you with that! To create an account or register for application, we will need a few pieces of information. Let me guide you through this process!

Written request should be submitted

1. A written request needs to be submitted to the branch where the customer wants to shift the account. The request has to be signed by all the account holders. Unused cheque leaves of the old account will also need to be surrendered.

Closing of account & transfer of balance

1. After receiving the request, the account with the previous branch will be closed and the balance transferred to the new account. The new branch will allot an account number and issue a passbook and cheque book with the new bank details.

No fees charged for account transfer

1. The banks cannot charge any fees for the transfer of an account to a different location.

Points to note

1. Banks may also offer account number portability between branches.

2. Facilities like the ATM card, debit card and other Net banking facilities are linked to the new account.

3. The new account number and branch details have to be updated wherever the customer has provided bank account details, such as for investments and EMIs for loans.

The main features of the Senior Citizens Savings Scheme are mentioned below:

Maturity of the scheme: The maturity period of the scheme is 5 years. However, individuals can extend the maturity duration for 3 years by submitting an application in the required format within one year of maturity of the account. However, the account can be closed without any charges after the expiry of the account.

Nominations: Nominations can be added to the policy at the time of opening an account or after the account has been opened.

Number of accounts: Individuals are allowed to operate more than one account by themselves or open a joint account with their spouse. However, joint accounts can be opened only with the spouse and the initial depositor is the investor of the joint account.

Minimum and maximum amount: Only a single deposit is allowed to be made in the account. It can be in the multiples of Rs.1,000 and the maximum amount that can be deposited is Rs.15 lakh. Deposit amounts less than Rs.1 lakh can be paid by cash, while amounts more than Rs.1 lakh must be paid by cheque. In case of cheque payments, the date the cheque realises will be the opening date of the account.

Transfer of an account: An SCSS account can be transferred from one person to another.

All holders of a joint account get equal access to funds. This makes it easier to manage daily expenses. With a joint account, there is lesser chance of "financial shocks" since all holders know the account balance, income and expenses. Holding a joint account makes it easier for family members in different cities to share and access funds. A joint account is a simple way to keep track of your and your family's finances. Most banks also offer additional benefits on joint accounts, such as debit cards and cheque books for each holder.
